NEGRO MURDERER ARRAIGNED, BUT IS GRANTED STAY UNTIL TO-MORROW TO ENTER PLEA

Boddy's Hearing Adjourned by Justice Wasservogel on Request of Counsel.

CROWDS FILL COURT.

Wife and Sister of Prisoner Weep, but Slayer Smiles at Them.

Handcuffed to two Deputy Sheriffs, Luther Boddy, the Negro who killed Detective Miller and Buddley, was arraigned today before Justice Wasservogel in the Criminal Courts Building. He did not plead to the two indictments charging him with the murders, as former Judge Morris Koenig, of counsel assigned to defend him, obtained an adjournment until 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. He had asked for ten days.

There was a great crowd in the corridors of the building and about the door of the court room, striving by every subterfuge to get within for a sight of the killer. In the crowd two brothers of Detective Buckley were recognized, and, perhaps to prevent any emotional manifestation by them, they were asked not to enter.

Boddy, who had spent the night in his cell in the Tombs with a bright light burning over him and a guard at the door, was brought down from the mezzanine floor of the building by a crowd that clustered along the stairway and pushed and swayed for a glimpse of him.

In the court room were his wife, Cora Boddy, and his sister, Louise Richardson. Mrs. Boddy was crying as her husband was led down the side aisle, but he turned and grinned at the two women, and thus was led to the bar.

When the prisoner was asked for his plea, Mr. Koenig replied with a request for the ten-day adjournment, saying that he had no knowledge of the indictments.

"As I understand it," he said, "we are not looking for revengeful justice."

GIRL WITH DUAL PERSONALITY IS CURED AS CHILD FACTOR IN HER MENTALITY IS SLAIN BY SCIENCE

Polly, 4, and Bernice, 19, Fight to Death to Control Her Mind.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 12.—Science has killed four-year-old Polly Redick to save the life of her other self, Bernice Redick, nineteen years old.

Dr. H. H. Goddard, head of the Bureau of Juvenile Research here, announced to the United Press today the death of the strange personality who alternated with Bernice for four months in occupying the same body.

"She has not appeared for nearly a month," Dr. Goddard declared, "and we can announce positively now that she has been completely eradicated."

"Bernice Redick is still recuperating. She is not yet strong enough to leave the hospital and go to work and has not made any plans for her future."

"She realizes that the dual personality may re-enter her life some time if she suffers a complete nervous breakdown and is anxious to remain here until she feels physically capable of fighting Polly alone, if her second self should again wrestle for possession of her body."

Mesmerism was an instrument in killing the queer child who attracted attention of psychologists throughout the country. Polly and Bernice, though fighting for possession of the same body, were strangers until introduced through hypnosis.

"Then Bernice aided us and Polly's death became only a question of time," Dr. Goddard explained. "Polly's personality fought hard against extinction, but she kept growing weaker until she completely disappeared."

The child's death struggle lasted only a few minutes. Whereas, first she controlled Bernice's body for days at a time or alternated ten times a day as the whims came over her, the last appearance was only for a few seconds.

"Bernice now is a normal girl with ambitions to become a musician and with a taste for enlightening books and general improvement of mind," Dr. Goddard said.

NEWBERRY BATTLE ONE OF BITTEREST IN SENATE HISTORY

Republican Leaders Fighting Desperately to Save Michigan Seat.

ROUNDING UP VOTES.

Willis of Ohio, Believed to Favor Ouster, Called to White House.

From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—As the climax in the Newberry fight draws near the Senate is in the throes of one of the fiercest struggles it has ever witnessed. Scenes akin to those in a State Legislature in the days when partisans fought to "put over" their candidate for the Senate are taking place in the "greatest forum on earth."

Lobbying for votes for the seating of Newberry is carried on without concealment. Senator "Jim" Watson, of Indiana, who has been entrusted with the work of rounding up votes for the exoneration of the Michigan Senator, put in an entire day yesterday and was busy this morning exerting every ounce of pressure possible on doubtful senators, especially those on the Republican side.

Watson, who was Penrose's chief lieutenant, has practically assumed leadership on the Republican side and as he is one of the Administration spokesmen, it has further substantiated the allegation that it is an Administration fight to prevent the ouster.

The Democratic side of the chamber, free from political pressure, has lined up solidly against Newberry with the possible exception of Senator "Tom" Watson of Georgia.

When the word went abroad that a number of Republican Senators were standing in their determination to flatter with the organization the activities of the chief lieutenants of the Michigan Senator's forces grew apace. Willis of Ohio was called to the White House after it became known that he had definitely decided to vote against Newberry. He refused to divulge the subject of his talk with the President.

McNary of Oregon, while counted for Newberry, has been carefully nursed by the leaders, as he has shown some reluctance to pursue the course indicated.

Senator Lenroot, another Republican who has shown independence of action in the big question before the Senate, was the object of solicitation when he reached Washington from California yesterday. He was buttonholed by Senator "Jim" Watson. It develops that Lenroot expects to vote with Newberry.

The speeches in the closing hours of the debate have improved and the orators have reached heights which refute the charge that speechmaking of the higher type is a lost art in Congress.

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 12.—Police today were removing from a bank here 1,000 gallons of wine, discovered in a raid last night.

The bank, which deals largely in foreign exchange, is operated by James de Pasquale, who was arrested.

CUT IN GAS PRICES TO OLD LEGAL RATE SOUGHT BY MAYOR

Suggestion of Evening World Adopted in Applications Filed at Albany.

PUTS IT UP TO P. S. C.

City Asks Order Against Eight Companies and will Move Against 11 More.

The suggestion made by The Evening World in an article printed Jan. 5 that Mayor Hylan take advantage of his legal right to move for a reduction in gas rates was followed to-day, when the Mayor asked the Public Service Commission to reduce the price of gas charged by eight companies in this city and to order a return to the statutory rate. The Mayor also announced his intention of filing, from day to day, similar applications in regard to the remaining eleven companies operating in New York City.

This counter move on the part of the city is based mainly on evidence adduced in rate-increase cases now before the commission, which shows that the cost of making and distributing gas is less to-day than it was when the first assaults were directed against the 50-cent law.

The companies named in the applications filed, the statutory rate which applies to them and the rate now being charged are:

Consolidated	50	$1.15
Brooklyn Union	55	1.25
East River Gas Co.	59	1.20
Standard Gas Light Co.	55	1.20
N. Y. Mutual Gas Light Co.	50	1.20
New Amsterdam Gas Co.	50	1.20
Brents Gas & Electric Co.	130	1.50
N. Y. & Queens Gas Co.	150	1.50
* Plus 75c. service charge.

The eleven remaining companies to be named in subsequent applications by the city are:

Central Union, Northern Union, Queens Borough, Brooklyn Union, New York and Richmond, Newtown, Flatbush, Jamaica, Woodhaven, Westchester Lighting and Kings County. Only two of these are not owned or controlled by the Consolidated Gas Company, which directs the affairs of the companies named in today's applications.

Both Mayor Hylan and Corporation Counsel O'Brien signed the complaints, which were filed with the Public Service Commission in Albany. The Mayor took advantage of Section 71 in the amended Public Service Commission Act, as pointed out many times by The Evening World, to ask relief from the high rates now being charged for gas here. All the applications are labelled "Complaint of John F. Hylan, Mayor, City of New York," and Mr. O'Brien is designated as his counsel.

The body of the complaint was drawn up by A. S. B. Little, gas engineer for the city, who has testified in all the rate cases of the last two years. Mr. Little points out in every complaint a list of alleged abuses in

KING FREES 1,010 PRISONERS IN GENERAL IRISH AMNESTY

British Start to Move Out of Dublin Castle and Troops Prepare to Leave.

LONDON, Jan. 12 (Associated Press).—King George has granted general amnesty "in respect to political offenses committed in Ireland prior to the operation of the truce last July." It was officially announced to-day. The release of prisoners will begin at once.

The text of the proclamation, which was issued by Winston Churchill, Secretary for the Colonies, reads:

The King has been pleased, at the moment when the Provisional Irish Government is due to take office, to grant general amnesty with respect to all offenses committed in Ireland from political motives prior to the operation of the truce, July 11 last.

The release of the prisoners to which amnesty applies will begin forthwith.

It is the King's confident hope that this act of oblivion will aid in powerfully establishing relations of friendship and good will between the peoples of Great Britain and Ireland.

Figures given out in Dublin on Wednesday night in anticipation of the amnesty proclamation showed that 1,010 persons who probably would come under the classification of political prisoners were still in confinement. The number includes 25 persons held with murder, 121 with attempted murder, 478 with possession of arms, 126 with crimes of violence, the rest being held on minor charges. A few Sinn Fein prisoners are under sentence of death, these, according to

BRIAND QUILTS AFTER TILT; CANNES PARLEY BROKEN UP

ALMOST LIKE A BOMBSHELL AT WASHINGTON WHEN NEWS OF BRIAND'S QUITTING CAME

Statesmen See Present Arms Parley Affected as Well as the Genoa Economic Conference and the Cannes Deliberations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (Associated Press).—The resignation of Aristide Briand as Premier of France was received with almost bombshell effect in Arms Conference circles, the action being considered likely to have a great effect on decisions already reached or about to be reached.

The belief also was expressed in Conference circles that the overturn of the Briand Ministry would greatly affect the Genoa Economic Conference, in which American participation had been invited, and also the present conversations at Cannes.

Conference officials declared that as customary during Cabinet crises in France, the resigning Cabinet would remain in power for continuing the administrative work of the Government, and in the same way M. Sarraut would remain in Washington and would continue to attend the work of the conference, but would not feel entitled to make any definite decisions or to pledge the action of France on any question until the new Cabinet is appointed.

Secretary Hughes announced officially shortly after noon to-day the French President Would Not Agree to English Pact—Cabinet Out, All Resignations Being Accepted—Deputies Would Have Given Premier Remarkable Support and Are Amazed at Act.

LONDON, Jan. 12 (United Press).—Premier Briand has been asked to form a new French Cabinet, according to the Exchange Telegraph's Paris correspondent.

PARIS, Jan. 12 (Associated Press).—Premier Briand submitted his resignation to President Millerand at the Elysee Palace to-day after making a lengthy statement before the Chamber of Deputies justifying his attitude of the Cannes Conference. It was accepted, the entire Cabinet going out with the Premier. President Millerand indicated he would not ask any one to form a new Ministry before to-morrow. Minister of War Barthou and former President Poincare were mentioned as probable candidates for the task.

M. Briand's resignation was in the face of what was considered a certain majority in the Chamber of Deputies. It came as a climax to a stormy session of the full Cabinet at the Elysee Palace this morning, at which the Premier and President Millerand clashed, the French President remaining unalterably opposed to the text of the proposed Anglo-French treaty.

M. Briand's intention to resign was announced to the Chamber at the close of his long speech. The announcement came as an entire surprise. As he had apparently won the sympathy of the Chamber, his colleagues of the Cabinet were filled with amazement at his sudden determination.

M. Briand, after making his announcement, left the Chamber alone. The members of the Cabinet followed as soon as they had recovered from their surprise.

Groups of Deputies and Government officials speedily gathered in excited discussion of the seriousness of the situation, seeking a way out of the difficulty.

M. Briand put the Anglo-French pact, the question of postponement of German reparations payments and French participation in the Genoa Conference squarely up to the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon, telling the Deputies, in the bluntest terms, to take them or leave them.

The Premier first presented the question of the British pact.

"You have been complaining for three years," he said, "of not being called upon to share in shaping French policies. I am bringing you what you have been demanding for three years, and it is up to you to say whether you want it or not."

"As far as I am concerned," he continued, "I am merely making these explanations to you and do not ask your approval or refusal. Here is France's security. Take it or leave it."

The Premier next turned to the subject of the Genoa Conference.

"It is inadmissible," he said, "that France should be absent from this conference, which is purely financial and economic. Especially when such a powerful financial and economic state as the United States, without whose co-operation work is impossible, has agreed to participate."

"Do you wish France not to be represented there?" he asked. "If so, say so. I for my part wish France to take part."

In handling the German moratorium question Premier Briand said: "You must make up your mind on that question—a moratorium for Germany. It is granted because France has no voice in it. If France had had the decision, it never would have been considered. But, thanks to the Treaty of Versailles, Article 234, the Reparations Commission is empowered to grant delays, and you may make up your mind, now that a majority of the Reparations Commission has agreed to grant a moratorium."

M. Briand astounded the Chamber with his peroration after a full hour of presenting matters of his policy with extreme bluntness.

Beginning his peroration, M. Briand said he wanted the confidence of the Chamber, but declared that during his absence there have been underhand dealings. He said he had come back to face Parliament and tell what he had done. Now he was finished.

"I have devoted one year of my

French Delegation Leaves To-Morrow, Cabinet Minister Already on Way to Paris.

CANNES, Jan. 12.—The French delegation to the Supreme Council conference will leave Cannes to-morrow as a result of the resignation of Premier Briand and his Cabinet.

M. Loucheur, Finance Minister, left to-night. His resignation was included with those of the Cabinet.

The departure of the French means the virtual end of the Supreme Council conference for the present. In conference circles here this afternoon it was said it means the end of any chance for an Anglo-French alliance.

Rosenberg Solicited Business from Brooklyn Prohibition Agent.

What is believed to be the first case of its kind in the United States since Prohibition became a fact came before United States Judge Cooper in Brooklyn today when Ignace Rosenberg of No. 21 Jefferson Street, Brooklyn, pleaded guilty to a charge of soliciting liquor sales and giving information as to where it could be obtained. Rosenberg was fined $100. On Sept. 22 he took Enforcement Agent Weisenberg to a number of places where Weisenberg bought dris.
